19	Following a hearing on June 21, 2011, the court enters this order documenting the release
20	condition it imposed and the speedy trial exclusion it ordered on the record.
21	1. Release Condition. Mr. Purlantov appeared in court voluntarily, and the parties agreed
22	he would remain free on his own recognizance. At the request of the government, and without
23	objection from the defendant, the court ordered as a condition of release that Mr. Purlantov shall
24	not contact any witness in this matter either directly or indirectly outside the presence of his
25	defense attorney.
26	2. Speedy Trial Exclusion . For the reasons stated on the record, the court excluded time
27	under the Speedy Trial Act from June 21, 2011 to October 13, 2011 (the date proposed for
28	sentencing before the district court. A plea agreement has been lodged with the district court,

1	and the parties represented that they would lodge a revised plea agreement shortly, which will
2	operate as a statutory speedy trial exclusion. In addition, the court excluded time separately
3	under the Speedy Trial Act until October 13, 2011, finding that the ends of justice served by the
4	continuance outweigh the best interest of the public and the defendant in a speedy trial. See 18
5	U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(A). The Court made this finding and based this continuance on the
6	following factors:
7	(a) Failure to grant a continuance would unreasonably deny the defendant continuity of
8	counsel, given counsel's other scheduled case commitments, taking into account the exercise
9	of due diligence. See 18 U.S.C. §3161(h)(7)(B)(iv).
10	(b) Failure to grant a continuance would unreasonably deny the defendant the reasonable
11	time necessary for effective preparation, taking into account the exercise of due diligence.
12	See 18 U.S.C. § 3161(h)(7)(B)(iv).
